

Code of Ethics

PHILOSOPHY

My philosophy is simple: To provide the kind of quality service that all of our clients deserve.

And then do more!

As owner of Limitless Travel I pledge to conduct my business activities in a manner that promotes the ideal of integrity in travel and agree to act in accordance with the following principles of the ASTA code of ethics.

STANDARD OF SERVICE

I am dedicated to providing a standard of service unmatched by any other agency. This includes:

- assuring my customers that Limitless Travel will be factual and accurate when providing information about my services,
- delivering the best price
- will not use deceptive practices
- represent the service providers with the highest level of ethics

BEHAVIORAL CODE

The following codes incorporate the core values and guiding principals and fundamental beliefs that make up the heart of Limitless Travel

- to ensure my clients receive my best efforts and customized products of the highest quality
- to exhibit ethical, truthful, and honorable behavior and to exercise good judgement
- to love what I do and to inspire excitement in my clients
- to be loyal, dedicated, and devoted to my clients, the community, and the profession
- to hold myself accountable, to deliver what I promise, and to own up to my mistakes
- to do things correctly the first time and without wasting time, effort, or resources
- to respond quickly, accurately, and honestly to clients, vendors, and suppliers
- to constantly research current trends, methods, and destinations to best serve the client and the organization

THE COMPANY

At Limitless Travel, I believe that travel is a transformative experience that should be accessible to everyone, regardless of ability. The mission is to open the world to all individuals, ensuring that each journey offers the opportunity to explore diverse cultures, cities, and experiences in a way that is inclusive and empowering.

I understand that accessibility goes far beyond the physical aspects of travel. It encompasses a holistic approach that considers the unique needs and preferences of each traveler.

From thoughtfully designed accommodations to curated tours that cater to varied abilities, I am committed to creating experiences that resonate with the whole person.

I am passionate about breaking down barriers and fostering an environment where every traveler feels welcome and valued. I work tirelessly to partner with inclusive service providers, ensuring that every aspect of your journey is tailored to promote comfort, independence, and enjoyment.
